

This trip is NOT for everyone! Sorry but the hiking aspect may exclude those not use to climbing around the rocks. It takes about an hour (not taking pictures) to get to the top and another hour to make it to the cliffs. Thus you can expect this to occupy most of the day. I'll guarantee some nice shots... shots you will not get at just any venue.

Given the daylight factor I want to be at the cliffs by 1:00PM, thus we'll start from the bottom at 10:00 AM sharp. That means I will be starting the trail at 10:00AM with the folks there at that time. Others arriving late can catch up or do the trail separately.

Again, if you feel you are not able to hike this distance I would suggest sitting this one out. This is NOT a flat, level trail. Dragging a digital, with optional tripod may be a bit extreme, but how else you going to get those shots?

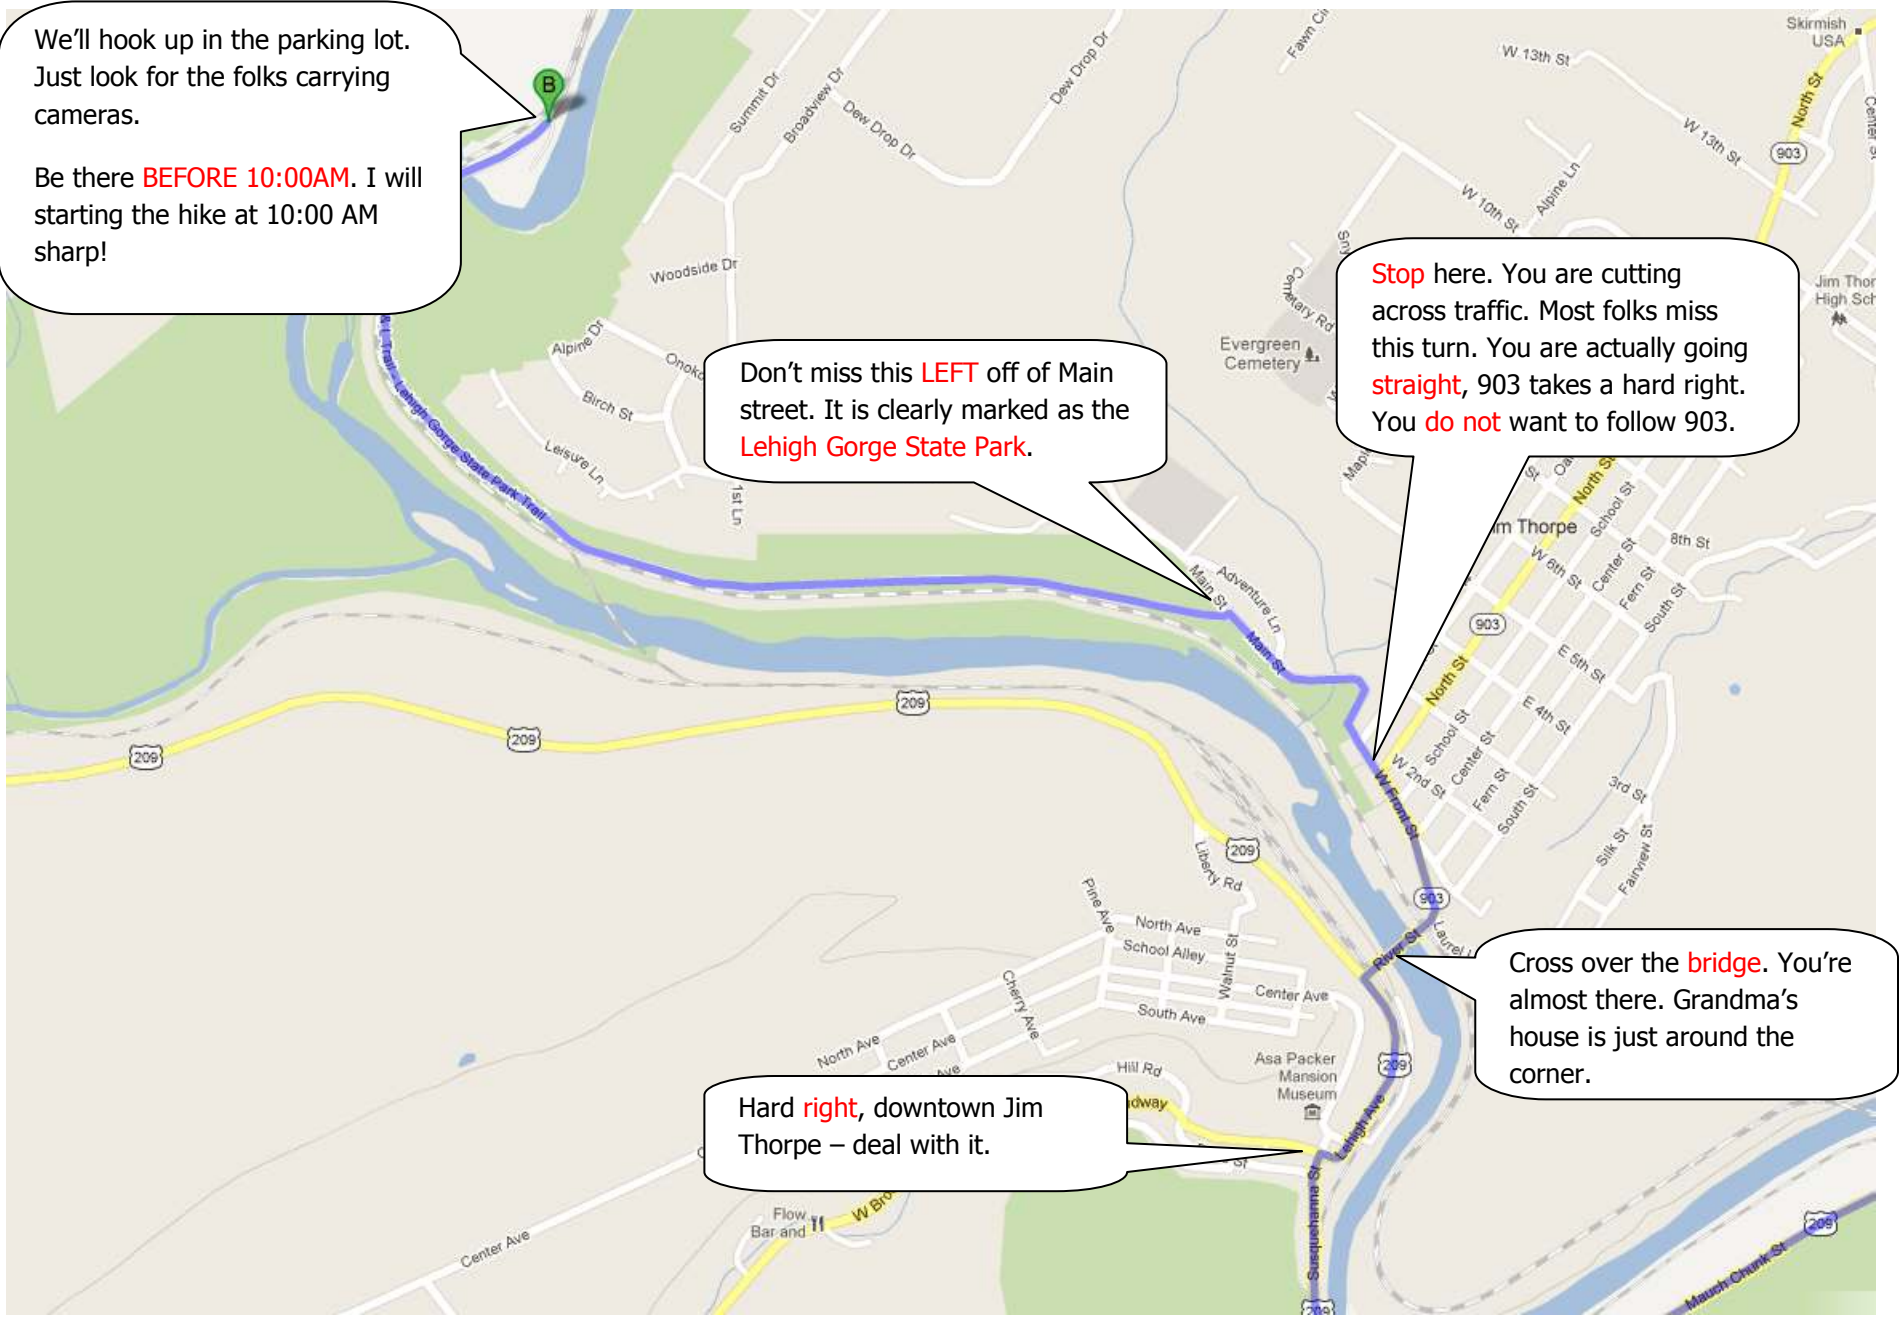

Directions on the following page.

Get off the turnpike at Mahoning Valley.
Don't miss this or you'll be exiting at Hickory run.

Hop on the turnpike in Atown or Quakertown.

We'll hook up in the parking lot. Just look for the folks carrying cameras.
Be there BEFORE 10:00AM. I will starting the hike at 10:00 AM sharp!

Don't miss this LEFT off of Main street. It is clearly marked as the Lehigh Gorge State Park.

Stop here. You are cutting across traffic. Most folks miss this turn. You are actually going straight, 903 takes a hard right. You do not want to follow 903.

Cross over the bridge. You're almost there. Grandma's house is just around the corner.

Hard right, downtown Jim Thorpe - deal with it.

If you have a vehicle I'll assume you have a GPS, thus no one should get lost. Program the destination in and it will tell you the expected time of arrival. This is precisely why I start when I say I am going to start. I respect everyone's time. Be punctual.
